

Role: Travel Trainer

Aim: To provide a pool of community members who can impart knowledge to others on how to travel safely, with confidence, on city, local and regional transport and advise on how to access transport information.

What does Travel Training do: Travel Training provides individuals with the knowledge and confidence to better access and understands transport options and support programs within their communities, local regional centres and metropolitan areas. It promotes inclusion and independence.

Supported By:

You will be supported by the Getting There Network.

Personal qualities and experience:

- Acceptance of all people
- Good communication skills
- Ability to work with groups and individuals as required.
- Desire to support the local community
- Ability to provide information to others
- Willingness to learn about transport services
- Basic computer skills are desirable
- Experience at delivering information in a group/individual setting would be beneficial.

Training:

Formal training will be provided regarding local, regional and intercity transport and assistance services. You will also be instructed regarding usage of the Networks website www.gettingthere.net.au and the services and program that The Network offers. A resource kit will be provided to each trainer as a reference and to be used when providing training.

N.B. Some trainers will only provide training to staff and colleagues within their organisations and cannot be booked through the Network.

All CA Inc. volunteers are required to have a current police and working with children check

Tasks performed:

- Provide travel training in a group/individual setting to community members
- Provide travel training in a group/individual setting to other staff and colleagues
- Provide up to date information regarding transport and assistance services within the local area, regionally or in the city
- Attend formal training with The Getting There Network.
- Utilise the website to provide information
- Encourage and educate others to use the website
- Provide information and referrals regarding Network programs
- Inform the Coordinator of changes to any local services for updating on the website

Location:

Varied. Trainers will provide training as and when required within their area. Training is booked through the Network coordinator, who will contact trainers to arrange sessions. Trainers will be reimbursed any travel costs incurred to provide training.

Hours/days required:

Varied. Training sessions will vary regarding days, time and duration. The Network understands that trainers will only have limited availability and may have a preference regarding group/individual training.